Soviets Promise E. Germany Aid

Agreement Reached On Russian Troops

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has promised Communist East Germany more economic help and more control over Russian troops "temporarily" assigned to East German soil.

A communique signed Monday night at the Kremlin apparently did not go as far, however, as recent agreements on the Soviet forces stationed in Poland.

There was no suggestion, for example, that the East Berlin government would be given any say-so on the number of Russian troops in East Germany and their movement about the country. This has been promised the Poles.

Instead the communique said an agreement on the Soviet forces in East Germany, to be concluded "shortly," would cover such matters as "criminal cases and civil action, the use of housing and service premises occupied by Soviet military units, the use of lines and means of communication and means of transportation."

There also was no time limit set for the Soviets' stay in East Germany, something the Poles have not been told either.

The East Berlin radio said Russia had pledged that its troops would not interfere in East Germany's internal affairs, but no such specific pledge was contained in the official text of the communique.

The Soviet Union said it would increase its exports of coke, oil, ferrous rolled metal, timber, some other raw materials and food. This would be in exchange for machinery, equipment and "other manu-

U. S., Poland To Negotiate, Is Report

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the United States has decided to negotiate with Poland on a wide range of questions that have divided the two countries.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper added that his decision was made in response to a request by the Polish government in a note.

The negotiations are expected to start within the next two weeks, according to the story by James Reston.

The dispatch also said:

The Polish government wishes to discuss these things:

1. A loan to finance purchases of U. S. agricultural surpluses, mainly cotton, wheat and fats. Poland also wants to buy U. S. farm machinery, chemical fertilizers and modern coal mining machinery.

(Secretary of Commerce Weeks has announced his department will consider applications for licenses to ship surplus farm commodities to Poland for U. S. dollars at world market prices.)

2. The reopening of Polish consulates in Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh, principal centers of American citizens of Polish extraction.

3. The release of Polish funds now frozen by the U. S. Treasury and of private funds willed to Polish citizens by American citizens.

4. New means of encouraging a greater exchange of persons and ideas between the two countries, and particularly of increasing the number of U. S. visitors to Poland. Coincidentally, the U. S. government wants to raise with Poland the possibility of new arrangements for the distribution of U. S. food packages in Poland. These have recently been subjected to heavy Polish taxation.

Ellsworth, Berlin Center Merger Sought

Mahoning Board To Pass Judgment On School Plan Jan. 19

The Ellsworth District Board of Education last night formally voted to apply to the Mahoning County Board of Education for permission to merge with the Berlin Center School District.

The decision made by the board at last night's meeting, held at Ellsworth School, culminated a series of talks for over a year concerning problems of the Ellsworth district.

The state has been paying all but 1½ mills of the district for the 71 Ellsworth school students attending high schools outlying the Ellsworth district. However, by 1959 the state law requires that townships must pay total tuition costs for high school students.

W. C. Smith, Mahoning County superintendent of schools, said this morning that the Mahoning County Board of Education will meet Saturday, Jan. 19, at 9 a.m. to consider the request.

May Merge in April If the merger of Ellsworth and Berlin is approved by the county board, it is assumed that the consolidation would be effective in April.

Both Ellsworth board and county school officials have made this clear, since to attempt an overall merger prior to that time would upset both Berlin and Canfield school systems, they believe.

Canfield has committed a full staff of teachers for this year, and if Ellsworth students would withdraw to attend Berlin might be left with more teachers than necessary. Also, additional teachers must be added to the present staff at Berlin to care for the influx of Ellsworth students since the majority of tuition students attends Canfield High School at the present time.

Richard Klyne, Ellsworth board president, told members that a letter had been received from the Berlin Center school board, testifying to that board's eagerness to unite with Ellsworth. Klyne also told the board a similar letter from Schifko was treated at Salem City Hospital for lacerations of the forehead while Thompson was treated for abrasions of the back, knee, and elbow.

New Senior High To Be Built At $2,160,622 Cost

The Salem Board of Education Monday night awarded contracts totaling $2,160,622 to four low bidders for the construction of a new three-year Salem Senior High School between E. 6th and E. 9th Sts.

Contracts were awarded to: Freeman Construction Co. of Wooster, on bids totaling $1,594,888 for the general contract and several alternates desired by the board; Harry Dougherty & Sons Inc., of Youngstown, on bids totaling $352,000 for the heating, ventilating and plumbing contracts; Einheit Electric Co., of Parma, on bids totaling $203,048 for the electrical contract;

C. M. Eichenlaub Co. of Pittsburgh, on a bid of $10,686 for the folding partition in the gymnasium

The board had hoped to keep the cost of the new school at an even $2 million so that $385,000 of the bond issue voted by Salem residents in November, 1955, would be left for architects' fees, remodeling the present high school into a junior high and for other expenses which arise in a project of this size.

However, after studying the bids, the board decided to proceed with the work on the badly-needed high school and consider later the problem of additional finances. About $200,000 is estimate needed to equip the new school once it is complete.

Decide Against Use of Cheaper Materials

The board studied various ways of cutting the cost of the school, but decided against lowering the quality of the structure by use of cheap materials.

Supt. E. S. Kerr said state aid on the building project would be impossible to obtain for Salem.

He explained that to secure such aid, a school district's property valuation must be less than $6,000 per pupil on the tax duplicate, while Salem's valuation is about $12,000.

Salem has fulfilled the second requirement, that the district assume bonded indebtedness up to the legal limit of nine per cent. Supt. Kerr said, but the city's high tax evaluation eliminates it from consideration for state aid.

The board voted to omit one boiler and one circulating pump, at a saving of $11,000, and to use porcelainized steel panels outside the windows instead of aluminum, at a saving of $8,700.

Freeman's bid totaled $1,525,000 for the general contract. Alternates accepted by the board included addition of five bays to the shop wing, at a cost of $65,000, terrazzo floors in lieu of plastic asbestos tile in the cafeteria, $3,129; the same substitution in the kitchen and servery, $2,621; and plastered shop ceiling and plastered ceiling in enlarged shop wing, $6,100 and $1,738, respectively, for a total cost of $1,594,888 on the general contract.

Contractor May Start Job This Month

Construction of the school will get underway as soon as weather permits, possibly yet this month, board members indicated. Unless a severe winter freeze sets in, the contractor will be able to begin grading operations before the end of January, it is anticipated. The new high school site covers 28 acres.

The new school will be one level except for a two-story classroom wing. It will include modern laboratory facilities, excellent music rooms, cafeteria, library, and a spacious gymnasium which will seat 2,400 at basketball games.

At other times the gym can be divided by the folding partition into two full size gym floors for boys and girls gym classes.

The school will provide a large wing for an expanded Salem Trades Class program which is gaining in favor throughout the district each year.

No auditorium will be in the building, but one is expected to be added later if funds become available.

A public address system was accepted by the board for the school, increasing the electrical contract by $2,300, and an IBM clock and

Board Re-elects Officers, Adopts New Appropriation

The Board of Education Monday night approved a temporary three-month appropriation of $323,225, which is $2,500 higher than the appropriation of $321,725 voted for the past three years.

The board also unanimously re-elected Atty. Alfred L. Fitch as president and Orin A. Naragon, vice president.

Estimated for teachers' salaries in the period was $250,000, the same as last year.

Other estimates include: Administration, $8,300. Nurses' salaries, $700. Business manager's salary, $1,500. Principals' salaries, $3,500. Janitors' salaries, $20,000. Supplies, $10,600. Materials for maintenance, $750. Contracts and open service, $9,175.

Bonds maturing, $12,000. Interest, $3,000. The total in the general fund was $308,225, $2,500 higher than last year, while the total for bond retirement was $15,000, same as the past three years.

The appropriation is a temporary one, designed to carry the schools until the yearly budget figure arrives from the county, usually in March. Then a final ap-

Dulles Recalled To Hearing

OK Of Middle East Plan Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and a top Republican committee member both predicted today that the House group will speedily approve President Eisenhower's resolution on the Middle East.

Chairman Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.) and Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) expressed that opinion as the committee called Secretary of State Dulles back for more questioning.

Extensive hearings still lay ahead in the Senate. Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said that "I, for one, am not going to be stampeded into action on this."

Eisenhower's resolution, delivered to Congress Saturday on a top priority basis, would authorize dollar help to Middle East countries and use of U. S. armed forces in case of open Communist military attack.

Dulles reserved for today's closed session details on some of the military matters he touched on during daylong questioning Monday. He did tell the congressmen that:

1. There is no plan for stepping up American forces in the Middle East.

2. Despite manpower cuts in the U. S. armed forces, America's military "effectiveness" has increased and he is satisfied the United States has enough strength to commit itself against possible brush fire wars in addition to its other commitments. He said, for instance, that we have the power to protect Syria.

3. American military actions might not be confined to the country where the Reds attack, but could involve strikes in such other areas as the aggressor's staging areas and communications lines.

4. He does not envision an all-out attack on the Soviet Union, unless it is determined that a Communist invasion is really the beginning of World War III.

Generally, Dulles portrayed the Eisenhower resolution as a "declaration of peace" which would deter war by serving notice of U. S. willingness to fight a Red aggressor and by bolstering the military and economic strength of independent Middle Eastern countries.

By making a Middle East country more resistant to subversion, he added, the Eisenhower military economic plan would also counter any Red move to take over that country by other than open aggression.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said after conferring with Eisenhower Monday that he believes Congress will pass the resolution, but may make some changes in it.

FORFEITS BOND IN LISBON

LISBON — Francis Wargo, 45, of Salineville RD 2 forfeited a $20 bond when he failed to appear for a hearing in Mayor Wilbur Warren's court Monday night on a charge of driving left of center line.

Wargo was cited by the State Highway Patrol following an accident on Rt. 518 Dec. 31.

Captain James Cook, who circumnavigated the globe and claimed Australia for the British crown, was a self-taught student. He borrowed a lamp so he could study navigation, mathematics and astronomy at night.

King Saud To Visit Ike Late This Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia will be a guest of President Eisenhower for several days beginning Jan. 30, and presumably the two will discuss Eisenhower's plan to block Red aggression in the Middle East.

The White House in an announcement Monday said the purpose of King Saud's visit—from Jan. 30 through Feb. 1—was for a discussion of Middle East matters "of mutual interest to the two nations."

The King, who succeeded to his throne in 1953, last visited this country in 1947 as crown prince.

Eisenhower will entertain at a stag dinner on the evening of Jan. 30 in honor of the King.

Saud has been outspoken in his opposition to Israel, but has had less to say about communism.

Introduces Bill For Payment Of Ohio Debt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) is trying to persuade the federal government to pay Ohio $1,333,000 for a debt he says has been on the books—but ignored—for about 20 years.

The obligation, Jenkins said today, goes back to the depression days administration of Ohio Gov. Martin L. Davey, a Democrat.

As Jenkins recalled it, Davey got into a fight with the New Deal. As a result, he said, the Roosevelt administration shut off payments for one month's old age pension assistance, totaling $1,333,000.

Jenkins, who has introduced a bill to recover this money for Ohio, said he is not too hopeful that Congress will pass it. "But it's my duty to keep it alive," he said. "I know in my heart they owe that much money to Ohio."

ALREADY OUT OF DATE

CLEVELAND (AP) — A $3,200,000 bond issue which the voters of the Parma school district approved only last November is already out of date, School Supt. Carl C. ## Additional Millions Of Americans Brought Under Social Security Provisions This Year

The beginning of 1957 marks an important development in the social security insurance program. About three million members of the uniformed services will come under the law; many totally disabled children over 18 will start getting monthly payments; self-employed lawyers, dentists, and some other professional people will have completed their first year under the program, and many farm landlords will be able to report their 1956 income from farm rentals for social security purposes.

"With the start of 1957, old-age, survivors and disability insurance becomes a significant economic factor in the future of nearly every person who works for a living," William J. McCauley, district manager of the Youngstown Social Security office declared today.

Benefits at the end of 1956 are being paid to 9,200,000 persons at the rate of $485 million a month. Insurance benefit payments to women beginning at age 62 first became payable for November and already 375,000 women in the 62-65 age group have started getting monthly check.

Members of the nation's armed forces are the largest of the groups newly covered by the 1956 changes in the law. About three million in number, they will start in January to earn old-age, survivors, and disability insurance protection on the same contributory basis as about 55 million civilian workers earn theirs. Social security taxes will be deducted from the pay of members of the armed forces, and the government, like other employers, will pay an equal amount. Members of the armed forces received gratuitous social security credit for military service in World War II and up to Jan. 1, 1957, but they made no tax contribution for this coverage.

ABOUT 200,000 self-employed lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, veterinarians, chiropractors, naturopaths, and optometrists were also brought under the law by the 1956 amendments. Since they are covered by the law in their first taxable year ending after 1955, they will get social security credit for their 1956 earnings. Along with the self-employed people who were previously covered by the law, they will pay their social security self-employment tax in 1957 at the time they file their 1956 income tax returns.

The year 1956 can count toward social security protection for about 400,000 farm owners who rent their farms to others but who participate in the farming operation. If the farm landlord has an agreement with the renter or sharecropper under which the landlord participates materially in the operation or management of the crops or livestock, the farm landlord's income from the land counts toward social security.

At the end of the year approximately 60 per cent of the 10 million persons past age 65 who are without income from employment were receiving old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

Over 60 per cent of the paternal orphans in the country were receiving survivors insurance benefits.

Money to pay these benefits comes from the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund, which is built up from social security taxes paid by employees, employers and self-employed people covered by the law. This fund is kept separate from all other treasury receipts and can be used only to pay social security benefits and the costs of administration of the program.

During 1956 the trust fund received $6.6 billion, of which $325,000,000 was interest on that part of the fund which is not needed for current benefits and is invested in government securities.

Benefit payments for the 12-month period ending Dec. 31, 1956, totaled $5.7 billion, or about 86c of each dollar received during the year. Administrative expenses for the same period were $133,000,000 or approximately 2c of each dollar received. $800,000,000, or about 12c of each dollar received in 1956, went into the trust fund to be held for future benefit payments.

The total assets of the trust fund as of December 31, 1956, were $22.5 billion.

Beginning Jan. 1 the social security tax which workers pay, and which is matched by their employers, is raised from 2 per cent to 2 1/4 per cent. The social security tax paid by self-employed people on their earnings in 1957 will be increased from 3 per cent to 3 3/4 per cent. The additional tax will be used to finance the new disability insurance program, which provides monthly social security payments to qualified disabled workers between the ages of 50 and 65.

The first of two types of benefits based on disability which were provided by the 1956 amendments will become payable in January. These are payments to the disabled sons or daughters of workers who are now receiving old-age insurance benefits, and to the disabled children of workers who died after 1939 and were insured for survivors insurance benefits at death. The disabled child may receive benefits regardless of his age if he is unmarried and has been totally disabled since before his 18th birthday. The mother also receives benefits if the son or daughter is in her care. Payments to a disabled child can continue throughout his life.

THE SECOND TYPE OF monthly disability benefit provided by the 1956 amendments will become payable for July 1957. These payments will go to people 50 to 65 years of age who are so severely disabled that they are unable to work, and who have worked under the law for 5 out of 10 years before they were disabled and also for 1 1/2 out of the 3 years before they became disabled.

McCauley pointed out that disabled people, regardless of age, should not wait too long to find out about the disability provisions of the law. Those who are 50 or over should ask about disability benefits, and those not yet 50 should inquire about having their social security earnings records "frozen" to protect future benefit rights. Disabled people who wait until after June 30, 1957, to apply for disability insurance benefits or to have their earnings records "frozen" may lose their rights to benefits.

Ohio Schools Get Funds From DuPont

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—E. I. DuPont Denemours, & Co. Inc., has announced grants of more than a million dollars to colleges and universities for the next academic year.

DuPont said Sunday that more than half its grants to the 122 recipients will be used for improving teachers.

The company said the shift in emphasis from science fellowships and fundamental research grants of its previous gift programs "reflects the changing needs of the schools."

Grants of $4,000 each went to Marietta College, Antioch, Case, Wooster, Kenyon, Mt. Union, Oberlin and Ohio Wesleyan.

Ohio State received a $2,400 grant for an assistant professorship. $12,500 for fellowships and $15,000 for chemistry research.

Case Institute of Cleveland also received $23,000 for fellowships.

Salk Suggests New All-Virus Vaccine

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk today suggested the bold new idea of a vaccine guarding you against all viruses which attack nerves.

He listed two big reasons for seeking such an all-virus vaccine.

1. Perhaps many diseases which hit adults stem from childhood virus attacks which weakened nerves but gave no sign at the time. These ailments might include back pain, ulcers or high blood pressure.

2. Certain viruses might "sleep" in the nervous system for years until some stress made them active and caused trouble.

Salk, Pittsburgh scientist who created the Salk polio vaccine, made his proposal in a talk prepared for the opening of a three-day conference on cellular biology, nucleic acids and viruses.

Salk said the widespread successful use of polio vaccine might prevent many future cases of ailments whose cause is not clear.

This could include some cases of low-back weakness, curved spine, weakened stomach muscles and leg and arm troubles, he said.

Nasser's Fading Asset

It is always foolish to forget when the air is full of harsh words and broken glass that the fundamental pattern of action and reaction always stays the same. Eventually, people do return to a balance of reason.

The instant Egypt's Premier Nasser took action to use the Suez Canal to get what he wanted from nations and economic interests which relied on it, the canal's value began to fade.

There was a reaction to offset Nasser's action. Oil interests planned larger tankers and new pipelines. Military planners wrote off Middle Eastern oil as a prime source in the event of war. Oil - exploiters went to work with renewed zeal to locate new fields that could not be pinched off by political whims in an unsettled area.

The Suez Canal will continue to be the world's most vulnerable sea-going bottleneck. But for that very reason it will continue to be the reason why the world's best minds and most determined interests will concentrate on ways and means of whittling down its importance, as far as the transportation of oil is concerned. It is a fading asset.

Sen. Lausche-QED

When word came from Washington Thursday noon that Frank J. Lausche had voted with the Democrats on the question of organizing the Senate, everybody breathed easier.

It was like writing QED at the end of a geometry problem; that which was to have been demonstrated had been demonstrated.

The new Senator from Ohio is a Democrat. He was nominated as a Democrat. He ran as a Democrat. He cast his first and what is likely to be his most important vote as a Democrat. He will be assigned his committee positions as a Democrat. He will sit with the Democrats in the Senate chamber.

Even if Sen. Lausche occasionally votes on the side of the Republicans from now on, which is the privilege of any Senate Democrat and the practice of many of them, he will be known in Washington and in Ohio as a Democrat.

This should put to rest for all time a rumor cherished by some Ohio Republicans and apparently by Ohio's perennial governor himself that he was part Democrat and part Republican.

There "ain't no such animal" in the U.S. Senate.

But Money Helps

There will be cynics who will note that $5,000 salaries have not noticeably improved Ohio's new General Assembly, which is getting under way this week.

Cynics will point out, too, that salary revisions will be no guarantee of quality in C. William O'Neill's soon-to-be-assembled cabinet. Wherever rates of pay for public officials have been brought into line with earnings in private pursuits — in Congress, in the executive branch of the federal government, in the judiciary, in teaching — it always has been possible to say that money is no guarantee of quality.

No one ever said it was. It is no guarantee of quality in private pursuits, either. The point of keeping income for any position from getting out of line with going rates is to make certain that public parsimony is not driving away potential topnotchers or making it impossible for proved first - raters to perform public service.

Good government cannot be bought for cash. Money does not solve the problem of how to make citizens want to take part in popular government, but it helps. At least it solves the problem of how to survive personally while swimming collectively.

Case Study

How would you feel about Elvis Presley if you were on his draft board?

Could you forget all about his controversial aspects as a symbol of the rock 'n roll craze, his meteoric rise to fame and fortune and the squealing mobs of hysterical teen-age girls who converge on him when he appears in public?

Do you believe you could be objective about him as a potential member of the armed services of the United States? Or would the publicity that follows him wherever he goes pick you up in its merciless glare and make you feel as if you had been put on the spot?

Here is a case study of the essential difference between selective service and universal service. In the latter, all young men reaching service age would be on the same footing. In the former, someone must pick and choose among registrants, a task vastly complicated whenever a registrant has attained fame.

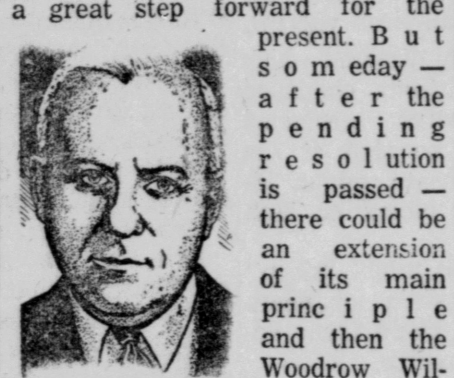

Among those who have reason to wish that Elvis Presley had kept on being a truck driver, no one could wish so more ardently than members of his draft board squirming in the fashion made famous by their most famous registrant.

Great Step Forward

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Eisenhower Doctrine Pledges Positive Action

The Eisenhower doctrine represents a distinct advance toward the prevention of world war. It is a great step forward for the present. But David Lawrence would at last be accepted in its entirety as the cornerstone of permanent peace in the world.

Thirty - eight years ago next month this correspondent listened at Paris when President Wilson told the gathering of allied governments there that a League of Nations must be formed to protect weaker nations against external aggression.

John Foster Dulles was present as an advisor and attache of the American delegation.

Later that year as President Wilson travelled across the United States, this writer heard him declare again and again in his speeches that Article 10 of the Charter of the League of Nations was the "heart" of the problem of world peace.

The wording of Article 10 was prophetic. It stipulated that the members of the League must agree "to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and political independence of all nations."

THIS WRITER watched in 1919 the Republican party in the Senate at first sympathetic but later on partially pressing the destructive "reservations" that killed the proposal for American entry into the League of Nations which so many of us were enthusiastically supporting.

Today many Democratic party members of Congress, some of whom during the past year—the centennial of the birth of Woodrow Wilson—have been making speeches extolling him as a great leader in world policy. are beginning to behave like the Republicans of the old days.

There is, for instance, evidence in the Democratic National Committee's statement the same spirit of captious criticism and quibbling that the Republicans exhibited in 1919.

It may be that the Democrats for partisan reasons will try to block the way now toward what they ought themselves to be advocating — an extension of the Eisenhower doctrine to include resistance against aggression from any quarter.

For the President some day may be willing to broaden the guarantee he now is asking Congress to give so it will eventually apply against all kinds of aggression and not just Communist aggression.

It is obvious that peace in the Middle East will never be attained until some outside force or influence — either the United Nations or a group of the major powers acting in Alliance with the United States — is exerted to employ force, if necessary, to guarantee that the boundaries of each country in Asia and Africa, when fixed by international agreement, shall be "respected and preserved" against any form of external aggression.

IT IS PLAIN to see that if such a broad guarantee had been embedded in the United Nations Charter or were included some day in the Eisenhower doctrine there would be justification for an international examination of the problem of Hungary and the use of military force to make secure the "political independence" of that country now enslaved by the Soviets.

It would, indeed, open the way to the unification of East and West Germany by enabling the people there in free elections to decide if they wish to be united under a government of their own.

Would this involve war? Not if the intent of the major powers were clearly laid down in advance as a warning. It is the failure of the United States—and particularly of Congress — to make clear America's intentions ahead of time which has been responsible for the subsequent involvement of America in two world wars.

THOSE MEMBERS of the Senate on the Democratic side, for instance, who today are saying that the President already possesses the authority he has asked for to deal with the Middle East situation are dodging the issue and would throw the whole thing again into the realm of uncertainty—the very circumstance that causes a would-be-aggressor to miscalculate and to misconstrue hesitation for American unwillingness to act.

After the League of Nations covenant was defeated in the Senate in 1919 by Republicans they felt somewhat guilty in later years and came up with the Kellogg-Briand Treaties in 1923 which implied that the signatory powers would come to the aid of "the victims of aggression."

This was never spelled out by the Republican administration.

Likewise when President Roosevelt, Democrat, came into power he, too, between 1933 and 1939, refused to be explicit and to announce what the United States would do in the event of aggression.

WHEN HITLER moved into the Rhineland in 1936 and later into Austria and Czechoslovakia, there was no alliance of powers to check his growing aggression which finally led in 1939 to World War II.

By approving the Eisenhower resolution now for the Middle East, the precedent is established for the adoption of similar resolutions at a later date protecting other parts of the world, particularly eastern Europe, against all forms of aggression.

Self-determination through free elections still is the greatest right that can be bestowed on any people but this right is empty without a guarantee against the threat of an external aggressor.

The Art Of Studying

Few students entering college know how to study.

That's the estimate of Dr. Loren S. Hadley, director of student advising at Kent State University, who recently published a pamphlet for incoming students titled "How to Study." The pamphlet, now in its second printing, has been hailed as a significant contribution to improve study habits.

"About 95 per cent of those entering college lack adequate study skills," Dr. Hadley says, "and this includes many high school valedictorians." He added:

"Many of these students have never taken an essay-type examination. Most of the students do not know how to take notes and often have poor reading habits. They acquire study skills in a hit or miss fashion or else they fail."

Dr. Hadley believes the beginning college student should have a study schedule to complement the class schedule so that a goodly portion of the studying can be done during daylight hours. The "favorite" subjects, he says, should be studied at night when it is easier to get started on such subjects.

For effective reading, Dr. Hadley advises the beginning student to read b looking for something definite "With an attitude to remember it." As for efficient listening, he thinks the student should take adequate notes and review these notes immediately after the class period.

In preparing for examinations, Dr. Hadley says the student should make a list of questions he believes the professor is going to include in the quiz. Then, before

Thoughts

There are no U-turns on the highway of life.

answering each question, the student should plan a brief outline to each question before he writes. And if the student starts answering the question he thinks he knows best, Dr. Hadley points out, he will do better because his confidence has been strengthened.

He contends that in student who is trying to get just barely by with minimum grades shows evidence of immaturity. Other such evidences, he says, are when the student misses class because there was no on to insist that he go or when he gets too involved in social affairs that he lets his class work slide.

Control Of Credit

By RAYMOND MOLEY

In some respects the current controversy over the monetary policy of the Federal Reserve Board resembles the battle which attended the creation of the Federal Reserve system in 1913 and 1914.

The age-old struggle between those who favor inflation and those who want stable money is present now as it was then. But the form of the conflict and the methods proposed by the easy money people are superficially different.

The present board under the leadership of its chairman, William McChesney Martin, Jr., seems determined to keep credit tight with a slow rise in interest rates.

Under the powers possessed by the board and because of the long 14-year overlapping terms of the members, it looks as if the board could hold out against anything except drastic legislation by Congress. Under all circumstances that is not likely to happen.

In 1913 when Woodrow Wilson entered the White House he was pledged to a reform of the currency system.

A PLAN HAS BEEN prepared after some years' study to achieve that end. This plan, which bore the name of its principal author, Sen. Nelson W. Aldrich, was considered wise by the major bankers of New York.

Advocates of easy money, under the leadership of the new secretary of state, William Jennings Bryan, were violently opposed to the Aldrich plan. The Bryan people favored not only a decentralized system but a central board composed of government officials. This would have made the system entirely political.

President Wilson, like Mr. Bryan, was bitterly critical of the domination of credit by Wall Street banks, although the new President regarded that control as a natural consequence of law and custom.

Good fortune had it that Carter Glass, a congressman from Virginia, found himself in a strategic place in Congress when the controversy began.

Rep. Glass was a believer in decentralized authority but also an opponent of the inflationary policies of the Bryanites. He had as an expert the very able H. Parker Willis of Columbia University.

REP. GLASS soon won the full confidence of President Wilson. The outcome was a board composed neither of bankers nor of political officeholders—a board appointed by the President but for a long term.

In short, it was designed as a supreme court of finance with a very large measure of independence. The system was also decentralized as a concession to Mr. Bryan.

That is essentially what we have now. Decentralization has proved to be a genuinely conservative influence and the central board can be just as independent as it chooses to be.

But there are new rationalizations for inflation now, unheard of in the days of Mr. Bryan. Most of these spring from the philosophy of the late Lord Keynes. They would at every sign of faltering business loosen the strings and spend money, borrowed if need be.

This, it is clear, would be a perfect instrument for a political regime determined to stay in power by maintaining a perpetual boom.

But to accomplish this it would be essential that the administration in power control the Federal Reserve Board.

A FAVORITE PLAN to accomplish this which has been proposed would be to create a super economic council with several public officials as members. This super-council would dominate the Federal Reserve Board and destroy its independence.

This pretentious plan would in essence be the old Bryan idea in modern dress. All past experience with this government and other governments since history began shows that no political government can be trusted with control over the savings of its people.

It is true that the supply of money is tight. That, however, is due to the shortage of savings for investment. In turn that shortage is due to the fact that high taxes are preventing people from saving as they might.

But inflation would merely aggravate this trouble and still further deplete the volume of savings. That is why, despite temporary shortage of capital for investment, Chairman Martin and his board are holding the line.

Chinese Church Rises

By WILLIAM SCOVILL

SAN FRANCISCO — A unique Buddhist church, built on Christian charity, is rising on the site of a 19th century Chinese brothel.

Fittingly enough, four huge steel trusses were eased into place on the roof Christmas eve — they're the last pieces of steel needed for the framework of the three-story church.

As the holiday lights of Chinatown twinkled, the head of the 300-member congregation, Dr. Paul Fung, stepped back to observe his group's handiwork and remarked: "You might say that the end is now in sight."

Buddha Universal Church, this congregation's name, was founded two decades ago by two Chinese-American brothers, Charles and Frank Yick, who wanted to return to the original teachings of Buddha. The Yicks' group included eight persons and for a while they prayed to Buddha in a small third-story office.

As their numbers grew, they needed more space and eventually, with a membership of 100, moved into an old sewing factory. They saved their money and five years ago, paid $65,000 for an oriental night club in the heart of San Francisco's Chinatown. The site had once been used, nearly a century ago, as a tenement for newly landed Chinese; later it became a brothel, an industry curtailed by the 1906 earthquake, after which authorities stamped out prostitution in the razed settlement area.

Purchase of the ramshackle night club wiped out the church's savings, so the membership, by now 300, decided to build a church in their spare time. This was a decision motivated by necessity—the members discovered their plan to remodel the night club wasn't feasible, that they'd have to start all over again with new foundations.

At this point, Christian charity started operating.

Felix Spitzer, retired chief city engineer, heard of the project and offered technical advice, free. The American Friends Society sent a work camp, dedicated to promoting inter-racial cooperation.

Contractor Robert Denmark of fered services and equipment and so did such corporations as the Gilmore Steel Co., the Schrader Iron Works, the Joseph D. Sheedy Drayage Company and many more.

One of the congregation's members, fortunately, was contractor Ralph Fung (no relation to the doctor) and he helped coordinate the dozens of people who worked on the church.

The main workers, of course, were people like:

Peggy Mar, a doctor's receptionist by day, a plumber's helper by night; stenographers Gloria Chou and Annie Toy, who ran sledgehammers at night; aircraft mechanic Horace Eng, printer Jackson Lew and grocery clerk Ernest Hong, who carried hods by night; dentist Frederick Hong, who poured concrete at night; Dr. Fung and his brother George, also an MD who slung steel by night.

And many, many more.

The design, clean and modern, was donated by a distinguished California architectural firm, Campbell and Wong, and people like Otto Schrader, head of an iron works, "just happened to drop by" when trusses needed installation. Tightening bolts in the steel work was Clifford Lemmon, a state building inspector who, after checking his own work, pronounced it "absolutely first class."

It's taken a long time but Dr. Fung feels the project is over the hump, more than three-quarters complete.

"Now that we've got those good steel supports over our heads, we can put on a permanent roof and finish our work inside the church," he said.

He estimated the roof would be done by the time the church opens its 10-day bazaar in late January in conjunction with the Chinese New Year.

"Everybody's been wonderful to us," he said, "and don't think we don't appreciate it."

He pointed to a big sign over the church's entrance. The sign reads:

"A symbol of America's generosity and freedom of religion with the heartfelt thanks of the Buddha Universal Church."

The Scientist In Convention

The American Association for the Advancement of Science, representing 300 societies and tens of thousands of scientists, met in a recent convention in New York to discuss and report on the great mysteries of life.

But it seemed to us that they were as baffled as anybody else by the perplexities of existence in a big city. (We observed quite a few mental giants whose facial expression seemed to say, "I just can't figure things out.")

AMONG THE MANY reports was one holding that human life began millions of years ago through a mixture of hydrogen, carbon and nitrogen, possibly aided by a bolt of lightning or an overheated atmosphere.

We would be more inclined to confidence in such theories if we did not notice so many scientists getting into the "up" elevator when they wanted to go down, and vice versa.

IN THE TURMOIL of a great city they seemed to have no more answers than other "visiting fireman." An elevator boy in a hotel housing several hundreds of them told us one of them had asked three days in a row how to get from the elevator to the newsstand.

And we encountered a traffic cop who said that during a scientists' convention he always gets more questions like "Where is the Empire State Building?"—"Can you direct me to the Chrysler Tower?" and "Which is the downtown side of the subway?"

TOO MUCH IS EXPECTED of scientists anyhow. They have the key to great mysteries, (1) how to fix an electric cigarette-lighter; but can be puzzled by many things such as (2) just what restaurants put on the hash; (3) where to get a crosstown bus; (4) where to get a good steak dinner for less than $5; (5) what ingredients does the modern cafe put into a Manhattan cocktail and why no cherry? (6) why does a movie theater ticket-taker tear the ticket and give you a stub? (7) with what do many hotels stuff the pillows? (8) if you drop the wrong coin into the beef-pie slot in an automat lunch what do you do next?

"Hitler's Death Made Official"—headline.

Schickelgruber, here he lies:

If not, what a big surprise!

It would, I think, be more than quaint Should he, quite dead, cry out, "I ain't!"

ACTING ON A PLEA from the police commissioner, New York churches made pleas from the pulpit for safe auto driving and it was about time. . . It seems to us that there is no field where the golden rule and all the precepts of religion are brushed off so generally as by auto drivers.

The reckless driver leers at the Sermon on the Mount. . . The fellow who imperils his fellow man on the highway under any conditions makes a mockery of "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

The pompous, overbearing inconsiderate driver violates the teachings of his church. . . And it would be a great help in the fight for highway decency if the churches of the land often sounded off forcefully, say we.

CLARE BOOTHE LUCE is home, ending three-and-a-half years as ambassador to Italy and this corner thinks the gal did a fine job and boosted the levels of feminine competency in places of high responsibility. . . It was a time of dissension and turmoil in Italy, the situation calling for poise, patience, obvious good will and plenty of brains. . . Supplement these with charm and graciousness and you've got something. . . And in Italy where beauty goes a long way, a woman's glamor can be a terrific influence.

Marie Re-enacts Kidnap 'Ordeal'

Police Are Ironic In Describing Details

ENCINO, Calif. (AP)—Marie (The Body) McDonald, whose curves are far more dramatic than her histrionics, could claim some kind of award today for her performance in the police movie of the year.

In an all-talkie, color film with police cameramen, the shapely actress Monday re-enacted what she says was a terrifying midnight kidnapping from her palatial San Fernando Valley home.

The movie had everything any Cecil B. DeMille epic ever had — except camels. There were four scenes requiring six takes; a bedroom shot and an outdoor location; a producer and director (both policemen), and, of course, set coverage by a small army of Hollywood press.

One policeman gave it a title (already used by Hollywood) — "The Body Snatchers."

An elaborate walkie-talkie system, manned by two police captains, gave the waiting reporters a blow-by-blow account of what took place inside. The officers, playing it heavily tongue-in-cheek, were openly ironic in their descriptions of Miss McDonald's allegations of terror.

Homicide Chief Robert Lohrman, whose voice will never give Ronald Coleman any competition, announced at the outset:

"We now have Miss McDonald's permission to start the first scene." The scene was in the bedroom with the star in bed, wearing green pajamas.

It had to be shot over. A clumsy policeman stumbled over the wires, knocking out the sound. At the conclusion, Lohrman announced:

"That's the end of Scene 1." A professional movie man would have yelled "cut!" but the idea got across anyway.

All this re-enactment was to illustrate Miss McDonald's account of her ordeal. She had told authorities that two swarthy men abducted her from her house shortly before midnight Thursday and drove her to a hideout. There she managed, during Friday, to telephone three friends and report that she had been kidnapped. She didn't call police.

Late Friday night she was found wandering dazedly on the desert near Indio. A truck driver picked her up. Hospital attendants said she had a bruised face and two broken caps on her teeth. She was sent home in an ambulance to recover—and to re-enact the occurrence.

Later, she invited all the photographers into her living room and even posed for the newsreels. She repeated details of her ordeal, sobbed a little and then finished the interview in true actress fashion.

"I want to thank all of my friends and the many others who have been so kind as to write letters to me since this all happened. I want to say this is definitely not a hoax. And least of all, it's no publicity stunt."

Another 'Bricker' Amendment Offered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another proposed "Bricker amendment," subject of frequent controversy in Congress, was offered in the Senate today.

Its author, Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said in a statement that it would not impair in any way the constitutional authority of the President to conduct the country's foreign affairs.

The proposed constitutional amendment, like other proposals offered by Bricker in recent session of Congress, is aimed at making international agreements ineffective as legislation within the United States without action by Congress.

Previous efforts by Bricker to place restrictions on treaty-making have drawn administration opposition.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Donaldson of Cazenovia, Ill., received the skates for Christmas, and he really skates for as much as two hours at a time.

Polio Foundation Ponders Its Future

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that polio is largely licked, the head of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis says the organization is faced with a big problem — what to do with itself.

Basil O'Connor, foundation president, said Sunday in an interview that the foundation hopes to come up with a solution by spring.

Whatever is done, he said, the foundation has an obligation to the "80,000 old cases" and the continuation of support to research programs in which the foundation already has invested 25 million dollars.

But as these obligations ease off, he said, the foundation must move toward a new status — one possibility being to "shut up shop."

"Another idea," he said, "would be to pick out another specific disease."

FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big station wagon news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so full of fine-car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

Under the front-hinged hood you'll find new power—Six power!—V-8 power!—proved-in-action power.

Inside you'll find more usable loadspace. And the wrap-around liftgate gives you greater loading ease.

If your choice is the 9-passenger Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new glamour wagon with its smartly distinctive wood-like trim.

If your needs call for a 6-passenger station wagon with four doors, you'll love the new Country Sedan. When you fold the rear seat into the floor, you'll find there's almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4-door Country Sedan. It has the extra third seat for 9-passenger room. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, for fans of Ford's celebrated Ranch Wagon.

This 6-passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new subdued tones, the latest word in modern decor. And when it comes to quiet, there's no wagon like Ford wagons!

In the wonderful way that Ford can take a fine thing and make it even finer, the Del Rio Ranch Wagon goes a step beyond the Ranch Wagon in style, fabrics and trim. It brings you 2-door, 6-passenger wagon-life at its best.

Better see for yourself—and soon. Take a Ford wagon for a spin. You'll agree that for styling it's a sweetheart... for work and power, it's a nimble, obedient slave!

Hope To Renew Lisbon Rivalry

Salem High Football Shows $745 Deficit For Last Year

Salem High School football lost $745.10 last year.

The annual football financial report presented to the Salem Board of Education last night by Supt. of Schools E. S. Kerr showed that receipts totaled $9,175.63, while expenditures totaled $9,920.73.

This loss is added to a deficit of $459.37 which the football program had incurred at the end of 1955, for a total deficit on Dec. 31, 1956, of $1,204.47.

After examining the report, board athletic committee member Dr. Donald Lease told other board members that efforts are still being made to resume football competition with Lisbon. The Salem-Lisbon game each year was always played to a capacity house, providing a large revenue to both schools.

Lease said the athletic board has offered Lisbon several dates on which the game might be played, but cannot get Lisbon to accept one of the dates.

In years past, the game always was played as the last of the season, but Salem would prefer to have it played earlier in the year. He said the athletic board recognizes the financial value of the game and will continue efforts to have it resumed.

The board also discussed starting games at a later time than the 7:45 p.m. time which is now used. It was reported that merchants whose stores do not close until 9 p.m. on Friday nights, had sought to have the game time delayed.

A starting time of 8:15 or 8:30 was discussed, but no agreement reached.

E. Liverpool Game Profitable

The financial report on football for 1956 shows that the biggest source of income was the East Liverpool game here which brought a gate of $1,684.65.

The Quakers received guarantees totaling $900 for their "away" games. These included $300 at New Philadelphia, $150 at Ravenna, $250 at Canton Timken, and $200 at East Palestine.

program system was agreed upon which cut $433 off the electrical contract as it was less expensive than the clock system included when the contractor computed his bid.

The board, after some discussion, voted to use fluorescent light fixtures in the building instead of incandescent. The fluorescent fixtures added $8,173 to Einheit's base electrical bid.

Board member Robert Heddleston was ill and unable to attend the meeting last night as fellow board members climaxed many months of work by awarding contracts on the biggest public building project in the history of Salem.

seek the California governorship in 1960.

May Seek Governorship

But politicians probed behind the reasons he gave and many of them thought they came up with a carefully drawn plan for now-land to seek the California governorship as a stepping stone for a renewed bid for the presidency.

To get the GOP governorship nomination Knowland probably would have to convince Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight that his best chance for political advancement lay in seeking to fill the Senate seat Knowland is vacating.

If Knight declined to be convinced, Knowland would have to face a primary battle with Knight if the senator chose to seek the nomination.

Caught Knight By Surprise

Knowland's announcement apparently caught Knight by surprise. He told newsmen in Sacramento, Calif., he didn't know what to make of it. He said he has no intention of running for the Senate but declined to say whether he would seek renomination to the governorship.

Some Knowland associates in Washington said they believed the senator had decided that if he wants to be president he will have to break the three-way knot that now exists over potential control to the Republican convention four years from now.

As senator, he would have to deal with Knight or Nixon with the prospect that the delegation would be split two, or possibly three, ways. But as governor he would have disposed of Knight and probably could wrest the state's delegation away from Nixon, leaving the latter without a "home base."

Get-Together Held By Elkton Youth

pay measure—O'Neill has not announced a single cabinet appointment.

The hurry-up measure increases to $18,000 the salaries of the heads of these departments: Finance, welfare, Natural Resources, Taxation, Liquor Control, Highway Safety, Health, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation administrator and Workmen's Compensation administrator. Welfare and Highway Safety directors would jump from $10,000 and the others from $12,000.

Increases from $10,000 to $16,000 would go to the directors of Commerce, Public Works, Agriculture and Industrial Relations.

Members of the Pardon and Parole Commission would get $14,000 instead of $8,400, Industrial Commission members and members of the BUC's Board of Review would jump from $10,000 to $12,000, members of the Public Utilities Commission would be increased to $16,000 from $10,000, Board of Tax Appeals members would jump from $8,000 to $14,000 and salaries of members of the Board of Liquor Control would double—from $6,000 to $12,000.

As a job-protection measure for the professional man O'Neill appoints as director of Mental Hygiene and Correction, the bill assigns him a definite six-year term. A similar term now is enjoyed by the director of Natural Resources and the director of Health now has a five-year term.

Sen. Mechem was re-elected president pro tem and majority leader of the Senate and Roger Cloud of Logan County again will serve as speaker of the House.

The Senate and House reappointed Thomas E. Bateman and Carl Guess, respectively, as clerks.

Presiding in the Senate as the legislature marked the 100th anniversary of the first time it met in the present capital was Sen. Frank Svoboda, Cleveland octogenarian, because he is the Senate's oldest member. He served because the elevation of Lt. Gov. John W. Brown to the governor's chair Thursday left the Senate without a presiding officer.

Svoboda served until Mechem was elected president pro tem. Mechem then turned the chair over to Sen. Tom W. Moorehead, Zanesville Republican and chairman of the Senate finance committee.

The Senate met in a chamber newly redecorated, complete with new carpet and new, polished-walnut desks.

Also on tap today in the Legislature is the "official canvass" of Ohio's vote in the Nov. 6 election for statewide offices. It requires a joint session of the Legislature, but for many years has been a formality.

Two East Liverpool men escaped serious harm after the car in which they were riding hit a freight train car on Rt. 7 just east of Wellsville at 12:45 this morning.

The driver, John R. Haddox, 33, attempted to go around a freight car stopped at a crossing. Engineer of the train, Fred Paisley, 65, of Wellsville, said the train had stopped while waiting for another car to be put back on the tracks.

Ernest Watson, 51, a passenger in Haddox' car, was treated by a doctor for lacerations of the chin. Haddox was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear.

No one was hurt when a light truck driven by William A. Kreidler, 18, of Poland, collided with a tractor trailer driven by Ralph W. Hutchinson, 31, of New Springfield on Rt. 14 one mile west of Washingtonville at 10:10 a.m. Monday.

Patrolmen said Kredlar was cited for going left of center.

Ellsworth

Berlin had been sent to the Mahoning County Board.

The Ellsworth board, after considering school systems in Berlin Center, Greenford and other outlying area schools, had told Ellsworth residents in letters sent out in December that it favored Berlin because of its bonded indebtedness, transportation, present and future school curriculum with an eye to potentiality of future expansion, and future enrollment.

They decided on making a merger with an area school at the board meeting Nov. 26.

Previous to releasing the letter the board had called a public meeting for Nov. 23 when public sentiment for the consolidation was expressed. However, only a small minority of Ellsworth residents attended that session, some of them favoring Greenford rather than Berlin.

Klyne Is Re-elected

The Ellsworth board will convene again Feb. 4 at the regular meeting date to discuss the outcome of the county board's decisions concerning the merger.

During an officer election, Klyne was re-elected board president. Lloyd Helsel was re-elected to the post of vice president, and Robert McDonald was chosen for another term as clerk.

The 100 desks needed for the three classrooms at the Ellsworth Elementary School will be purchased by the board, it was decided. The board has furnished the various classrooms in the new and older sections of the school, finishing a room at a time.

Board members at the meeting included Klyne, Helsel, Merl Hively, Dr. Cuncon Hogg, Harold Brown and Clerk McDonald.

Crosser Delegate To Fair Managers Meeting

LISBON — At a fair board meeting Monday evening, Clarence Crosser of Lisbon was elected to attend as a delegate the Ohio Fair managers annual meeting Jan. 15 to Jan. 17 at Columbus.

V. B. Lemley, speed secretary, was elected alternate.

President Galen Greenisen said he and Lemley will attend the U.S. Trotting Association meeting and banquet next Tuesday evening at Columbus.

The Columbiana County members will give special attention to entertainment and special attractions which might be brought to the county fair which will be held August 20-24 inclusive.

Other board members planning to attend are P. R. Corey, Columbiana; Ben Weingart, Leetonia; Richard Stamp, Salem; and Walter Johnson, Negley.

FINED FOR OVERLOAD

Leland C. Munson, 31, of North Pekin, Ill., was fined $25 and costs Monday by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer on an overload charge.

Michigan has more residents than Chile, Cuba or Venezuela, and almost as many as Austria or Sweden.

Air Power Cited As Peace Weapon

A guarantee of peace and the only real defense against the enemy's guided and intercontinental ballistic missiles is the development by the United States of a stock of its own, Sir Philip Joubert, wartime air chief marshal of the Royal Air Force, told the Town Hall audience last night in the Salem High School auditorium.

Making his first appearance on the lecture stand in the United States, Sir Philip, known as one of Britain's distinguished military aviation leaders, based his talk on "Air Power For Peace."

The tremendous air force of the United States has been a great deterring influence on Russian activities today, the speaker said.

Only 85 persons heard the speaker last night because of inclement weather.

Police Say Sheppard Slaying Story Is Hoax

CLEVELAND — Police in Cleveland and Mansfield Monday night discounted the story of a man who confessed—then repudiated the confession—to the slaying of Marilyn Sheppard and Mrs. Max Sternbaum.

"Nothing more than a hoax," said Mansfield Detective Chief Bruce Friday concerning the "confession" by an unemployed cab driver in Chicago that he killed Mrs. Sternbaum. The wife of a Mansfield grocer, Mrs. Sternbaum was killed in 1953. Friday said the cab driver, Robert Clineage, 30, was serving a sentence for failing to stop after an accident and was in county jail at Mansfield at the same time Max Sternbaum was there charged with his wife's murder. Sternbaum was acquitted in a later trial.

Clineage formerly was a cab driver at Mansfield.

Dr. Samuel Sheppard is serving a life term in Ohio Penitentiary for killing his wife.

Clineage telephoned police Saturday and told them he killed Mrs. Sheppard and Mrs. Sternbaum and had been paid $1,000 for each slaying. Later, he repudiated his statement, saying he made it while he was drunk.

the myth of "greater selection out of town"

The dictionary defines a myth as "a thing whose existence is imaginary." And nothing is more imaginary than the idea that if you shop in some BIG CITY many miles from here you will have a wider choice of merchandise than in our local stores.

True, the metropolitan stores may show more individual items, but they're more of the same! In some cases they may not even have as much variety as your hometown merchants.

And when it comes to style, our storekeepers are just as up to the minute as their big-town brethren. That's because they send buyers to the same markets! The big stores have no monopoly on sources of supply.

When you compare local prices with those of out-of-town stores, don't forget what it costs you in gasoline, oil, car depreciation, parking fees and other expenses when you drive long distances. What might seem like a saving often turns into a loss.

When you buy from your hometown merchants you get

HOLDING UP HIS END

Middletown Leads AA Poll; Salem Tied For 15th Place

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Jerry Lucas, 6-foot-9-inch junior scoring star of Middletown's defending state high school basketball champions, is having a bit of trouble.

But, before rival coaches get their hopes too high, it's bowling trouble the 16-year-old point-producing phenomenon is experiencing.

The tall kid wears size 15 shoes—and no one carries that size in stock. So Jerry, who wants to learn to bowl despite the fact the cage campaign is at its peak, will have to defer his tepid debut until a pair of special shoes can be delivered to him.

The Middletown folk figure Jerry could be quite a bowler. They point to the fact he does everything well. Last summer, in his first try with a shotgun, he broke four of five clay targets at a trapshoot. He has coordination de luxe.

His basketball is still slightly on the miraculous side, too. In last March's state tourney, as he led the Middies to 25 straight wins and the championship, he set eight records.

The marks he set in Cleveland Arena included: 53 for a single game, 44 in the championship tilt, 97 for two contests, 20 field goals for a single game and 38 for 529; 18 field goals for a championship contest, 13 free throws in one game, and 21 for two.

His scoring hasn't fallen off a bit. With nine straight wins under Middletown's belt this season, Lucas has a 355-point total for a 39.4 average. He has played only one full game, and is averaging only three quarters of play for the campaign.

In his last three games he scored 40 against Xenia Central, 59 against Dayton Roosevelt, and 49 against Hamilton—an average of better than 49.

Lucas, regarded as the finest high school player the state has seen in years, is the big reason coach Paul Walker's team was rated No. 1 today in the opening Associated Press poll of sports writers. The balloting was sparse, only 15 scribes getting into the act, but 10 named Middletown to the top spot and all had the champs high on the list.

(Although Lucas is having trouble with his bowling shoe problem, Walker has seen to it that his prize bit of bric-a-brac is well-fitted with size 15's for his cage chores.)

While Lucas was performing his deeds of deer-der-der—and is slated to continue Friday against Portsmouth and Saturday against Columbus East—Shelby's 6-4 Larry Siegfried put in a bid for a share of the headlines by pouring in 58 points in the 111-43 win over Willard.

Middletown's latest win was Friday's 86-69 win over Hamilton before 7,864 fans in Cincinnati Gardens. The Big Blue, in losing its second against six wins, had the consolation of becoming the first team to finish within 20 points of the Middies.

While the Middies were dominating the Class AA poll, the Class A "best team" now went to Mike Zorich's 10-game winners from Reynoldsburg, with Arcanum's 1956 champions claiming second despite two losses in 13 starts.

Here's how they lined up in the abbreviated voting, with the first place votes in parentheses, and the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis:

Out - of - state cagers suffered heavily at the hands of Ohio teams Monday night as Buckeye colleges hammered out four victories against one defeat.

Some 9,500 fans turned out at Ohio State University's new St. John Arena to see the Bucks spurt to a 75-68 victory over the Purdue Boilermakers.

The win gave OSU a 2-0 Big Ten record and an overall 7-3 season standing. Purdue now stands at 1-1 in the Big Ten and 7-2 for the season.

At Charleston, W. a., Steubenville College won an easy 78-66 victory over host Morris Harvey in a game that nearly ended in a fist fight. Referees moved in before any blows could be thrown.

In another Ohio College win, Youngstown University's Penguins trounced St. Vincent College of Latrobe, Pa., 88-66 for their sixth victory in eight games. Mickey Yugovitch and Bob Atterholt led the Penguin's scoring with 17 points each.

Wilmington College chalked up another Ohio win when it defeated Centre of Kentucky 81-65 at Wilmington's home court. The Quakers, paced by Jack Harner's 35 points, took the lead in the first few minutes of play and never were overtaken.

Ohio's only loss to an out-of-state school came when Wilberforce took a 94-60 shellacking from Kentucky State at Frankfort, Ky. The Thoroughbreds came up with 61 points in the second half to run away with the game.

In the only intra-state competition, Oberlin College edged Hiram, 77-72, in the final minutes to gain its first Ohio Conference basketball victory. Six-foot-six Homer Gilchrist scored 29 points to lead Oberlin.

University of Arizona Grid Coach Resigns

TUCSON, ARIZ. — Football coach Warren Woodson of the University of Arizona — who dared to talk back to critics — resigned Monday night.

The fiery-tongued Woodson once described his job at Arizona as the "most miserable experience of my life." His resignation ended a 26-year coaching career that once saw him listed as the nation's 9th most successful football coach.

Woodson's injury - ridden, winged-T Wildcats last year ended their most disastrous season since 1950 with a 4-6 record. His star tailback, Art Lupino, holder of the all-time college four-year rushing record, spent most of the season nursing a hobbled leg.

His career at Arizona hit a low point last year when students hanged him in effigy from the top of the student union building.

In 1954, Woodson told a startled group of Tucson Towncats, downed by 20-0.

"I know more about football than anyone here. And I'm smarter about football than you. Stay out of my business so I can do better."

The boosters got up and gave him a standing ovation.

The Milwaukee Braves led the 1956 National League race on 121 days of the 167-day season and were tied for the lead four other days.

Spartans turned out to be the only team failing to cash-in on the home floor advantage in four conference battles Monday night.

Ohio State posted its second straight league triumph with a 75-68 victory over Purdue and Indiana moved into a first place tie with the Buckeyes by bouncing hapless Wisconsin, 79-68.

Illinois scored its first Big Ten win in two games with an 81-70 decision over Iowa's defending champions and Michigan edged Michigan State, 70-69, at East Lansing. It was MSU's second conference loss, both by one point.

Outside of conference play, Notre Dame whipped Northwestern, 82-61. Kentucky dumped Loyola of Chicago, 81-62. Bradley defeated Drake, 88-75, and Marquette edged Detroit, 67-64.

Ohio State and Purdue put on a roaring battle until the last five minutes when the Buckeyes went ahead to stay on a 20-footer by Jan Laughlin. Ohio State led 32-29 at the half but the Boilermakers went out ahead several times in the last session. Ken Sidle of Ohio State topped all scorers with 25 points while Ed McCormick led Purdue with 20.

Archie Dees, the league's leading scorer, pumped in 28 points in leading Indiana to an easy triumph over Wisconsin. The Hoosiers never trailed but held only a 35-32 halftime lead. Bob Litow was high for the Badgers with 19 points.

Illinois poured through 52 points in the second half to overcome a 31-29 Iowa halftime lead. Pacing Illinois' last half surge were Hiles Stout, George Bon Salle and Roger Taylor. Don Ohl, who had 16 points in the first half, took scoring honors for Illinois with 21.

Iowa's leading scorer was Tom Payne who clicked for 28 points. Michigan State blew a 40-35 halftime lead as the Wolverines of Michigan put on a winning stall in the last three minutes and held a slim one - point advantage throughout the final minute. Michigan's George Lee topped all scorers with 20 points.

Northwestern played take-and-give with Notre Dame by dropping a 21-point home-court decision. Last month the Wildcats dumped the Irish, 75-60, at South Bend.

Capt. John Smith was Notre Dame's big gun with 28 points before fouling out with some three minutes to go. Dick Mast led Northwestern with 20 points.

QUITS BASEBALL — Jackie Robinson finds a place to hang up his Brooklyn Dodger jacket and glove on the wall of his recreation room in his Stamford, Conn., home. Jackie, a Dodger hero for 10 years, disclosed in a magazine article that he is retiring from baseball to accept a position with the magazine and a national restaurant chain. He was recently traded to the New York Giants.

Robinson Says His Age Figured In Decision To Quit Baseball

NEW YORK — One of the reasons that prompted Jackie Robinson's retirement was his deep conviction he no longer could be of any value to a major league ball club.

In a frank appraisal of himself, the former Brooklyn Dodgers star said today he felt he was too old to help the New York Giants, to whom he had been traded by Brooklyn last Dec. 13. He said it would be too much of an ordeal to try to get himself in proper shape to play again.

"Let's face it," he said. "I'm 38 years old. I'm not near the player I used to be. I don't think I would have been of any help to the Giants. They need much more than an old guy like me to put them back in contention."

"They've lost too many young players — fellows like Jackie Brandt and Bill White and Willie Kirkland — to the service. I wish the Giants all the luck in the world next year but I don't think they have much of a ball club."

Robinson, who announced his decision to quit baseball for a job with a restaurant chain, said one of the reasons he was happy over his new job was because it would relieve him of having to go through the torture of trying to get in condition.

"I finished the 1956 season at 200 pounds," he said. "In order to give forth my best efforts I should be down to about 206-208 pounds when the season opens. Right now I weigh 228. It would be real torture to get down to playing weight and besides I don't know whether I'd be able to do it."

Told that the old Robinson would have considered this a real challenge and would have jumped at it, Robinson replied:

"I'm sick and tired of accepting challenges. That's all my life has

HAVE YOU TRIED THIS SEASON'S GAS?
"Fill 'er up please!" has become one of the most common expressions in our language. It's probably said as often every day as "no cream, please" or "extra cream" by people ordering coffee.

When you put sugar or cream in your coffee, you know exactly what you're getting. You know whether you like the sweetness of two lumps or three or none at all.

But when you say "fill 'er up" you aren't getting the same gasoline all the time. No, people aren't cheating on you, it's one of the almost unknown ways in which the petroleum people look after you.

In the winter time, gasoline contains a larger percentage of lighter gas. It's more volatile — that is it evaporates easier and therefore starting is made easier.

In the summer, gasoline gets heavier and this helps stop too much of it from evaporating which cuts down on stalling from vapor lock.

This is true, by the way, of both premium and regular gasolines. So you never have to worry about what weight of gas you should use as the seasons change.

But your kind of driving changes as the seasons change and so does the load on your car. And no one will take care of this for you automatically.

It's almost automatic, though, if you'll bring your car in to our mechanics for that important twice-a-year check-up. Those words "factory trained" are more than just a phrase—they mean that our mechanics aren't just handymen with a knack for motors; they've had both book learning and practical experience with cars. This gives them two important advantages: they can do what needs to be done quickly and they won't load you with the expense of doing what doesn't need to be done.

If you think modern car ads are sometimes a little sensational — and silly — you should have seen them in 1912! We'll be around next week with some samples you'll chuckle at.

Salem High Frosh Clobber Canfield Cardinals 53-20

By BOB JULIAN

Salem High School's freshman basketball team, playing on their home floor the first time this season, clobbered the Canfield Cardinals 53-20 Monday afternoon.

Coach Sam Pridon and his boys rolled to their 15th straight win without a setback, and it was also Pridon's 16th in a row as yearling mentor at Salem High.

At the start, both teams seemed jittery as they threw passes away and had trouble finding the range.

Three minutes went by before either team registered a tally.

Big Ed Yats broke the ice for Salem, dumping in a foul shot to give the Quakers a 1-0 lead which they never lost.

DAVY HUNTER HIT on a long set shot to move the locals into a 3-0 margin with less than two minutes remaining in the initial period. Canfield added a foul shot to cut the lead to 3-1, and then the Quakers started to hit from all angles, drilling in eight markers to grab an 11-1 advantage in a wild first stanza.

The Pridonmen picked up where they left off in the preceding frame and pumped in four markers before Canfield hit on a field goal. The Cardinals battled Salem on almost even terms throughout the remainder of the period. The Quakers meshed 10 tallies to 8 for Canfield and held a 21-9 margin at intermission.

The locals kept hitting the hoops in the third stanza, with Davy Hunter connecting on long set shots. Salem outscored the visitors 14-8 and moved into a 35-17 margin after three periods.

IN THE FOURTH stanza Pridon cleared his bench of 21 men and used the subs throughout the frame. Ronnie Kilmer with eight markers and Ed Eskay with four tallies sparked the Salemites in the period as the Red and Black ran away with the contest. Salem poured in 18 points to 3 for the Cardinals in that frame.

Salem took 71 shots from the field and hit on 24 for 33 per cent. Canfield attempted 44 field goals and connected on 7 for a percentage of 15. At the charity line both teams were about even, Salem hitting on five of 12 for 41 per cent while Canfield drilled in six of 15 for 40 per cent.

Leading the scoring parade for Salem was Ronnie Kilmer and Dan ny Kirchbaum with eight markers apiece.

Haney and Donaldson registered six each for the visiting Cardinals. Salem next will play Greenford Wednesday at 4 p.m. in Greenford.

Harvard Seeks Football Coach

University Tensely Dismisses Jordan

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard joined a half-dozen other major schools in search of a new football coach today after terminating Lloyd Jordan's seven years with the university.

Speculation as to a successor, which once centered on backfield coach Harold (Josh) Williams, ran in all directions.

The university's terse, one-sentence dismissal of Jordan made no mention of a replacement.

Although the 56-year-old former president of the American Football Coaches Assn. learned of it last Wednesday, the decision was not official until Monday.

Athletic Director Thomas Bolles undoubtedly is shopping for candidates in St. Louis this week, where he is attending the NCA Coaches' Convention. Jordan, also there, is seeking work.

Campus criticism and reported friction on the coaching staff were believed to be factors in releasing Jordan two years before his contract had run out. He is expected to be paid from 20,000 to $25,000 to cover the balance.

Jordan came to Harvard in 1950. His teams won 24 games, lost 31 and tied 3. In '56, Harvard had a 2-6 record in the first official year of Ivy League grid competition.

Jordan, reached in a St. Louis hotel repeated an earlier statement that he had no ill feelings.

"The best success to my successor," he said, "I enjoyed working with many nice people at Harvard, especially the football squad."

Harvard became the second New England school to start a hunt for coaching talent. Boston University lost Aldo T. (Buff) Donelli when he accepted the job at Columbia replacing the retiring Lou Little.

California, Southern California, Washington, Houston, Missouri and Arizona also are looking for coaches.

Courchesne Wins On Split Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Courchesne and Johnny Busso put on such a good scrap at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night the loser was rewarded along with the winner today.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner said Courchesne, victor of the close, exciting television 10-rounder, would be pitted against featherweight contender Carmelo Costa, and the loser, favored Johnny Busso, would be matched with former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco.

Courchesne, an aggressive little fellow from Holyoke, Mass., earned a shot at DeMarco by his split decision win but said Paddy, now a 143-pounder, was too heavy.

So Brenner named Costa as his opponent if the commission will okay the bout.

Brenner said the bouts will be held Feb. 4 and Feb. 11 and that the first date would go to the one who is physically fit first.

Bobby's right eye was almost closed and he was bruised around the left eye. Busso, 22, a New Yorker who had a winning streak of seven snapped, suffered an inch-long gash on the left side of his head and bruises around each eye.

Judge Artie Aidala (5-4-1) and referee Teddy Martin (5-5) voted for Courchesne. Martin had it even in rounds but Bobby was ahead 6-5 on the supplementary point system. Judge Bert Grant cast a minority vote for Busso, 6-3-1. The AP had it even in rounds, 5-5, with a slight edge on points to Courchesne.

NCAA Council Meets Today

Will Iron Out Details For 51st Convention

By SKIPPER PATRICK
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The powerful 18-man policy making council of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. headed into executive session today to iron out details of the organization's 51st annual convention, opening Wednesday morning.

The council, which handles interim business of the association between conventions, has a number of cases pending, but no new cases will come up at this meeting. NCAA bylaws stipulate any new business must be submitted to the members 30-days prior to the convention.

Of the 14 major colleges presently on probation only the university of Miami (Fla.) is in a situation where it must give the right answers. Miami's probation, originally a one year stint but later extended to two seasons for recruiting violations, is up Jan. 10.

The four-year probation penalty assessed against North Carolina State last Nov. 13 in the Jackie Moreland recruiting case isn't expected to come up in view of the Atlantic Coast Conference's recent $5,000 fine against the school.

The NCAA's action against North Carolina State for recruiting the Minden, La., athlete was the most severe since the association got into the enforcement business five years ago.

Monday the American Assn. of College Baseball Coaches struck at professional baseball in retaliation for its elimination of a rule against recruiting college athletes.

Ethan Allen, Yale coach and a former major league player, said the executive committee would recommend major league scouts be barred from contacting players on the campus.

The Big Ten conference Monday night completed its 1956 and 1960 football schedule session, continued from its meeting in Chicago.

Michigan State, which reportedly had demanded its big game with the University of Michigan be played on alternate years at East Lansing, apparently won a point. The 1960 Wolverine-Spartan game will be played at Michigan State.

Big Ten commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson explained that Illinois and Northwestern switched 1959 dates to permit a change of the 1960 schedule.

California, Southern California, Washington, Houston, Missouri and Arizona also are looking for coaches.

Kansas Still Ranked Tops In Basketball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kansas continued its reign as the kingpin of college basketball today according to the latest Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters, but North Carolina's Tar Heels are awaiting just one faltering step.

The Jayhawks, with an 11-0 record, for the fifth consecutive week ranked No. 1. But Frank McGuire's club, with an identical record, was only 48 points back.

The two teams completely dominated the voting, heading all but nine of the 83 ballots cast. Kansas drew 45 first-place votes and 732 points while North Carolina received 29 top votes and 684 points on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc.

Kentucky, with four first-place nominations, remained in third place, followed by Southern Methodist, Louisville, Vanderbilt, Iowa State, UCLA, Seattle and Illinois.

No new teams were able to break the hold of the top 10, but there was some shuffling as a result of Illinois' loss to Minnesota Saturday. The Illini dropped from fifth to 10th with the others moving up or holding their positions.

Vanderbilt made the biggest jump among the leaders after handing Tennessee its first setback Saturday. They advanced from ninth to sixth.

The top 10, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Kansas (45) ..... 732
2. North Carolina (29) ..... 684
3. Kentucky (4) ..... 535
4. Southern Methodist (3) ..... 427
5. Louisville (1) ..... 301
6. Vanderbilt ..... 251
7. Iowa State ..... 220
8. UCLA ..... 219
9. Seattle (2) ..... 141
10. Illinois ..... 136

The second 10, in order:
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma A&M, Wake Forest, Canisius, Duke, Tennessee, St. Louis, West Virginia, Minnesota, Western Kentucky.

One of them, Charles Rotar, San Bernardino, Calif., was only four strokes off the pace at the 36-hole mark with 70-140 but in the third round he fell far back with a 79. He shot 42 on the first nine in Monday's final round and picked up on the 14th hole.

Firestone Park Light Committee Continues Campaign

Attempts to Erase Debt Of $5,000 on Stadium Lights

COLUMBIANA — Firestone Park light committee, formed to manage a campaign to erase the debt of about $5,000 on the flood lights at the park stadium, will meet in the high school at 8:30 p.m. Thursday to hear reports.

Superintendent D. W. Bailey, chairman of the committee, says the drive is progressing favorably. The Christmas week snowball frolic at Dixon School, sponsored as a benefit by the high school Athletic Association, was well attended, but reports from students who had tickets for sale are not all in. J. K. Harding is the committee treasurer.

The Booster Club, which helps support high school athletics and sponsors the summer recreation program at Firestone Park, wound up 1956 with a balance of $1,557, its largest in several years. Some of the balance is earmarked for certain purposes, leaving an overall balance of about $1,000.

PLANS ARE already being made by the local committee for the visit of the Cleveland bloodmobile to Columbiana, Friday, May 10, its second visit here. On its first visit last October, the bloodmobile obtained 135 pints in Columbiana, 10 more than the 125 quota, and local sponsors are hoping for an even greater response at the May visit.

Mrs. C. W. Dewalt, local chairman, says anyone from Columbiana may get blood free from the Cleveland regional blood bank on application to her or the Cleveland Red Cross office.

Nearly all hospitals in the U.S. have agreements with the Red Cross under which a "pint for pint" replacement is made for patients making the request. Part of the Red Cross funds collected here are devoted to the blood bank program.

Two Columbiana churches, Grace Evangelical and Reformed and the Presbyterian, will have their annual congregational meetings Thursday evening, preceded by covered dinners at 6:30.

At Grace Church, reports on last year will be heard and plans for 1957 will be discussed along with election of officers. At the Presbyterian Church treasurers of various organizations will submit reports and officers will be elected. The Triple M class will serve.

The Jolly 25 Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ray Candel at noon Wednesday for a covered dinner. Members are to take sewing equipment.

THE BOARD of Education of Columbiana exempted village school district met in Joshua Dixon School Saturday evening, and reorganized for 1957 by electing Miss Estelita Esterly president, Wilbur Spanabel vice president, and Wilder Foerch clerk for his sixth year.

A resolution was adopted providing a temporary appropriation for the first quarter of $75,000 for the general fund and $15,000 for the cafeteria fund. The board will meet in Dixon School at 8:15 p.m. the second Monday of every month.

The terms of Miss Esterly, Mr. Spanabel and Dr. K. P. Murphy, retiring president, expire at the end of this year. The other two members are Elmer Detwiler Jr., and Jack Weyman.

The fire department was called to the Triangle Service Station in the north end of town at 5:45 p.m. Saturday, when Preston Corey's car was badly damaged by fire.

A break in some part of the mechanism sprayed the front end of the car with inflammables, which ignited. The extent of the damage has not been determined. Mr. Corey is proprietor of the pony farm at the northwestern edge of town on Route 14.

Of only 23 fire alarms in 1956, the last two previous fires were Sept. 3 and Nov. 15, and the last one in Fairfield Township May 15.

SALEM 'OHIO STORY'

The lives of two Salem men who played an important part in the city's early history will be dramatized in "The Ohio Story" broadcasts this week over station WTAM, Cleveland, at 6:30 p.m. The broadcasts will include the stories of Edwin Coppock, who was one of John Brown's Raiders, and Daniel Howell Hise, author of Pap's Diary.

THANKED FOR DONATION

LISBON — A letter from CARE, thanking members of the auditor's department for their generous contribution to Hungarian relief, was received by Auditor I. J. Vordran today.

The auditor's department canceled its annual Christmas party and gave the amount which would have been spent for the party to CARE for Hungarian relief.

DISCUSS "EISENHOWER DOCTRINE" — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and other administration officials appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in Washington to explain the "Eisenhower Doctrine" for the Middle East. Looking at a map of the Middle East during the discussion are, from left, Capt. W. C. Mott, USN, Admiral Radford's military assistant; Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff; Dulles, and Rep. Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.), committee chairman.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

LONDON — As an American leaving the warmth of the British Overseas Airways Corporation's new DC-7C, you expect London Airport to be the boundary line of friendship and believe the British will be as cold as we have made their cities by cutting our oil shipments to the Isles for a while.

But the British are our friends. Even the British Socialists — who are mighty sick of socialist experiments — are our friends now. For once they have something in common with us. When Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden decided to invade Egypt, he didn't tell the British Labor party (the Socialists) either. And this marked the first time a prime minister made war without calling in the opposition and briefing them in advance.

The friendship of British Labor for the U.S. is most vital right now. This friendship is the equivalent of mighty battalions in the cold war on the Russians.

AMITY FOR U.S. and enmity for the Soviets among the highest British Laborites means that America and Britain will be allies for generations more.

The best informed political sources in and out of our Embassy here believe that during the generations to come, the British Empire will be governed by the British Labor party.

There is a certainty here that the Conservatives will be defeated in the next general election — and leadership of the Commonwealth will pass on to the British Labor party treasurer, "Nye" Bevan.

As Mr. Gaitskill will say in the U.S. sometime later this month, the future of Britain and the U.S. is inseparable. Coming from the man whom all expect to be the next prime minister that is as reassuring as a full fuel tank next to your winter oil burner.

But what of the fiery "Nye" Bevan, the man who has been so violently anti-American and so outspokenly neutral towards the Soviets in the past years?

He may be Britain's next foreign minister and some day even prime minister. As he goes, so may the Western world. Well, Mr. Bevan has been visiting the homes of several high American Embassy officials here in recent weeks. And he has been telling them he is pro-American now.

HIS ARDOR for the Russians has been cooled by the blasts of lead from Soviet tanks in Budapest streets — shooting down the forces led by men Mr. Bevan himself has worked with through the years.

Mr. Bevan is a charming but subtle chap. He may be telling the American diplomats what they want to hear. Yet I know the men he has been talking to privately. They are as shrewd as Mr. Bevan.

One, in fact, is an ex-laborite himself, right out of the AFL, and he isn't likely to be soft-soaped by "Nye." Anyway, the White House and the State Department are being informed of Mr. Bevan's apparent turnaround.

This switch towards us bumbling capitalists isn't exactly an isolated phenomenon. Lots on British Socialists would turn in their Socialism for the relatively classless society of good old American capitalism — and several million barrels of oil.

Socialism has failed here. They nationalized the steel industry, coal mines, railroads and the health service.

ALL THESE lost money. Wages didn't go up. Profits went down. There were strikes. And the Socialist managers were as tough as any old-fashioned capitalist manufacturers' group — more so, believe me.

As for the health service, some 20 million doctors threatened to strike the other day because they haven't had a wage increase since 1951. This hasn't been a very merry old England.

Some Socialists here have been saying, "America offers a good model of the society the Labor party should build because it is relatively classless . . . we are bored with nationalization . . ."

So you can take it for granted that if the British Socialists take over, they will forego socialism and just go in for some kind of new-New Dealism.

ALL OF WHICH pulls them further from the Russians and Soviet-brand socialism. The British Labor party really is the strongest force among world socialists.

Victor Riesel

Leetonia Church Group Will Sponsor Dance

LEETONIA — The Unity Class of the Methodist Church will sponsor a round and square dance at Midway Grange Saturday evening at 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Leonard visited her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller in Niles on Sunday.

D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge will sponsor a luncheon and card party Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

The Christ Mission truck will be in Leetonia to make daily pickups from Thursday through Tuesday, Jan. 15. Drivers will make a door-to-door canvass to gather up discarded articles of clothing, furniture, papers, magazines. If householders wish to have the truck stop at their home they should call Mrs. John Beilhart at HA 7-6525.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bergman and son of Belle Vernon, Pa., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Corna and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robson and daughters of East Palestine spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gotthardt and family.

New School Completes Integration Program

HILLSBORO, Ohio — Hillsboro's elementary school integration program finally was completed today with the opening of the new Washington School.

Negro and white children have been attending the same school since last September but until the Washington School could be completed it was necessary to send all elementary pupils to the Webster School.

Those who have been attending the Webster School have included those originally assigned to both the Webster and Washington School and Negroes who formerly attended the now abandoned Lincoln School.

The squabble over integration in this Highland County town was the subject of a lengthy court fight lasting more than two years. The school board sought to maintain the Lincoln School as an all-Negro school until new Webster and Washington buildings could be completed.

The National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People supported a Federal Court attack but U.S. District Judge John H. Druffel of Cincinnati originally declined to order immediate integration in view of the school board's announced program.

He was overruled by the U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, and the U.S. Supreme Court then declined to review the case.

NOT AGAINST THE LAW

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A automobile driver is not violating Ohio law if he cannot produce his driver's license when a police officer demands to see it, Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill ruled Monday. He said a driver has a "reasonable time" to produce his license. It is a misdemeanor, however, if the driver has his license on his person and refuses to display it, O'Neill said.

ESCAPEES ARE CAPTURED

HAMILTON, Ohio — All four of the youths who saved a window bar loose and escaped from the Butler County jail Saturday are back in custody today.

The last juvenile, a 16-year-old Hamilton boy, was taken into custody by police late Sunday. Two of the boys were caught shortly after the break and a third was arrested Sunday. One boy said he bought a saw from a jail inmate.

First all-steel ship to be launched was the liner Servia, in 1881.

Hard to believe it, but this big beauty is a bottom-priced Chevrolet "One-Fifty." It's got Body by Fisher quality written all over it. And it has a peppery, sweet-running "Blue-Flame" six under the hood to make your gas stops few and far between.

Like all new Chevrolets, it brings you a very special sureness of control. This is a quality that just can't be measured in dollars and cents. Lots of cars that cost lots more just don't have it. Come in and see how much pleasure we're passing out these days at Chevrolet prices!
